An American naval officer, Lieut. Col. F. R. The Tucker station has been closed since Monday, according to its manager. It will open tomorrow under Lieutenant Platt's censorship. No message in code will be allowed to be sent or received. The station is capable of sending as far as Germany.

IF KIDNEYS ACT

BAD TAKE SALTS

SAFE PACKAGE IS SIGN YOU HAVE BEEN EATING TOO MUCH MEAT

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms the uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and which becomes sort of poisons and clogs your system. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog your system, you will feel like you have a stone in your back, else you will have backache, sick headache, dizziness, spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jell-Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus leading bladder weakness. Jell-Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv.

SYSTEMATIC PLANS TO AID AMERICANS ABROAD FORMULATED

Secretary Garrison Scores Ship Owners Who Ask Exorbitant Fares

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Rapid progress was made today toward the relief of Americans in Europe. President Wilson issued an executive order constituting a board of relief to consist of the secretaries of state, treasury, war and navy which will have general charge of the distribution of the $2,500,000 authorized by congress. Secretary McAdoo, chairman of this board, will establish fiscal agencies in England and on the continent and will make plans for the distribution of funds to be sent abroad and arrangements will be made to turn these sums over to the proper parties when the government gold ships reach Europe. Further details will be handled through cable messages.

Americans in No Danger. The state department tonight announced that it had no information to lead it to believe that Americans in Europe are in any danger. Telegraphic reports it was said, indicated that Americans were safe.

"It is believed," said the department's statement, "that in the majority of countries arrangements have already been made whereby the necessary temporary financial embarrassments that may have arisen can be relieved."

Hundreds of telegrams and letters flooded the department today from anxious friends. The department will use every means in its power to communicate with those about whom inquiry has been made.

Garrison Scores Ship Owners. Secretary Garrison scored ship owners who have expected to charge big prices for vessels to be used in bringing Americans home. He declared that he might use army transports rather than submit to prices he holds as unreasonable.

Secretary Bryan was encouraged today by word that the Bank of England would not suspend gold payments. He received this message from Secretary Ramsey in charge of the British embassy here.

The chancellor of the exchequer thinks it is not necessary for the Bank of England to suspend payments in gold, there is no failure of credit. Bankers consider themselves able to resume the ordinary course of business tomorrow.

This is taken to mean that Americans in England who hold travelers' checks, letters of credit or other properly verified means of credit will find no difficulty in getting them cashed.

Mr. Bryan received word from St. Petersburg today that only about 200 Americans were in that city.

All arrangements were completed for the departure of the cruiser Tennessee from New York tonight with her treasure store of gold. Orders were issued to the armored cruiser North Carolina at Boston to sail in a few days with such gold as is thought advisable to ship later.

Officials expressed the hope that a sum sufficient to charter a big ship and send homeward units to the countries involved will be raised within a short time.

The Red Cross received a telegram today from Minneapolis. Associated charities complaining that the call for European necessities and the departure of many married men without their families had resulted in leaving numerous charges on the American public.

Russian Refugees Are Stranded on a German Island

LONDON, Aug. 6.—(Friday).—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who has reached Stockholm, sends the following dispatch: "The scene witnessed at Renshitz, a famous watering place on the east coast of the German island of Rugen, in the Baltic sea, baffled all description. Some 3,000 Russian refugees, turned out on the quay were left to struggle for access to a steamer which was reached only after a single gangway. The vessel was obliged to sail, leaving 3,000 of them in despair, believing that the last chance to return to their country had gone. "One family had a letter of credit for 20,000 roubles ($10,000) but were on the verge of starvation. Some of the refugees were half made with hunger, thirst and lack of sleep. "The correspondent says, harrowing stories have been told by refugees at Stockholm. Many of them were moved about by train for four or five days without any idea as to what was being done for them. Foreigners taking the cars at Wismar and Renshitz were glad to crowd into the fourth-class cars in their drive to get away."

LABOR TROUBLES AHEAD AT HEARING

BUTTE CONTROVERSY IS REOPENED

Socialists and I. W. W. Give Versions of the Recent Mine Riots

Butte, Mont., Aug. 6.—Widely divergent views as to whether local mining companies interfere with the political efforts of the unions were presented today to the federal industrial relations commission in session here.

Clarence A. Smith, a Socialist, former industrial worker of the World, and acting mayor of Butte, testified that the Anaconda company's interference with the local union affairs was the real cause of factional trouble, which culminated in rioting June 13 and the slaying of a man 10 days later.

Accusing Mr. Smith was Dennis Murphy, president of the local branch of the Western Federation of Miners in 1912. He said he had never known the company to be active politically.

Mr. Smith was positive that a body of men were discharged by the Anaconda Mining company in 1912 because of their Socialist beliefs. Mr. Murphy declared that the men were adherents of the Industrial Workers of the World, and had voted union money to pay for subscriptions to the "Ripon" and "Solidarity" publications, which Mr. Murphy said condemned the policies of the Western Federation of Miners.

Many Were Reinstated. Many of the men were reinstated. The declaration of local Socialists that about 400 men were discharged, while others say 150, is a point of contention which tends to intensify with the control of the company in this country inure the hostility of the company, was one of Mr. Smith's declarations.

The Industrial Workers of the World have about 200 local members and they were active in the trouble last June. Mr. Smith's explanation of their conduct was that the miners' trouble was a result of industrial unionism. This principle has been one of the big union issues.

It was the opinion of Mr. Murphy that the Socialists had injected themselves into the miners' organization for whatever political benefit might accrue.

A telegram from F. A. Delano announced today that he would sit with the commission no longer as a result of his being appointed a member of the federal reserve board.

U. S. BATTLESHIPS NOW ON GUARD AT NEW YORK HARBOR

ations or other charges of a contradictory nature. The collector passed on to Washington for decision there the question of allowing vessels to carry reservists away. He hoped to receive a reply by tomorrow.

It was understood these measures were prompted by reports that at least one German ship was preparing to slip out of the harbor without making known her destination. The Kronprinz Wilhelm of the North German Lloyd line left heavily loaded and without passengers in absence of her sailing hour Monday night, and she has not been heard from since, as far as it is known.

May Have Been Captured. There was no confirmation tonight of a report that a nearby wireless station had received a message saying the Kronprinz Wilhelm had been captured by an English warship and was being taken to Halifax.

The idle fleet of nine German ships in port was augmented tonight when the Friedrich der Grosse stepped up at her moorings, not destined to complete her voyage begun from Baltimore on June 28. She had lain off quarantine several days. Her commander apparently hoping conditions would let him venture to sea.

Passengers Landed. Subsequently her passengers were brought to land and tonight her crew was given shore leave on arriving at Hoboken. She had been recalled by wireless while in midocean. The vessel was placed under the same close guard which has been thrown around the other German ships here.

German reservists have been registered by the thousand at the German consulate. No plans have been made for getting them to the Fatherland, according to the German consul tonight.

The German liner St. Paul will sail for Liverpool tomorrow morning with one of the largest earthenware consignments of mail ever carried by a vessel leaving this port. The St. Paul will carry 450 passengers, including some well-to-do reservists, who hope to be able to reach their native lands. American newspaper correspondents and consular representatives.

U. S. BELIEVES THAT OFFER OF MEDIATION MAY BE ACCEPTED

If Not Now, Powers Soon May Welcome Aid of This Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Although no response had been received tonight to the formal tender of good offices made by the United States to the warring powers in Europe, administration officials thought today that if the mediation offer was not accepted immediately, within a short time, the American government probably would be called on to play the role of mediator.

By placing itself on record, the United States, however, caring little for the diplomatic interests of most of the nations at war, will have a first opportunity to compose the situation if a ray of hope for peace arises on the clouded horizon.

War developments for the most part were overshadowed by the death at the White house of Mrs. Wilson, which saddened officials generally. Diplomats and officers of the government called there to offer condolences.

Departments Coordinated. Early in the day the president had issued an executive order coordinating the work of the various departments on the relief work.

Dispatches came to the state department from Belgium telling of the repulse of German forces. The situation in China and the far east was considered by American officials but no action was taken. It had been suggested informally by the Chinese government that the United States might help at this moment to maintain the integrity of China.

The feeling in administration circles was that none of the countries at war would be inclined to tamper with the situation in the far east and that a status quo would be maintained. Should revolutionaries become active in China, however, and the moral support of the American government be required to keep China intact, there is a possibility that it will be given, because general disturbances in China at this time would menace the lives of missionaries and foreigners generally.

German Ambassador to England Thanks Nation for Courtesy

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The German ambassador at London, Prince Lichnowsky, who left England today, addressed a telegram to the British government expressing his thanks for the "great courtesy shown to us during our journey."

A Berlin dispatch says that before the departure of the British ambassador from the German capital, Emperor William sent an aide de camp to express the regret of his majesty because of the "excess of his majesty's committee the British ambassador, Sir E. Woodhouse, in reply, said he was thankful for the politeness shown him by the government."

HARVARD, England, Aug. 6.—When the German ambassador and his suite, numbering 190 persons, arrived here this afternoon, a contingent of the rifle brigade received them and presented arms. The ambassador, in reply to the honor, raised his hat.

A young German in the crowd shouted "God save Germany." There was no disturbance.

French Women Asked to Take Charge of Farms

PARIS, Aug. 6.—Premier Vivanti tonight addressed an appeal to the "women of France," asking them to complete the work of gathering the people left unfinished by the men who have been called to arms.

The speaker, said the premier, "wishes to appeal to the time of your youth and to that of your children whose ages alone, not their courage, will hold them from the fighting line. I ask you to maintain the life of our fields, to finish this year's harvest and prepare for that of the next year. You cannot render a greater service to your country."

The natives of western Anatolia, according to a current writer, "after gazing themselves on the flesh of the kangaroo, throw the bones over their shoulders to their kins (i. e. wives), who pass them on to the children."

PLANS GOING AHEAD FOR CARNIVAL AND MASK BALL

Chamber of Commerce Committee Frojoses Bigger Event Than Last Year.
Entire Block for Dancers

The carnival and mask ball to be held August 22, 1914, at the Broadmoor hotel, will be a larger and more comprehensive affair than any similar event ever attempted in Colorado Springs. The committee has not announced definite plans as yet, but many were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the general committee, in which of which Ralph G. Giddings is chairman.

Preparations to handle a larger crowd than last year have been made and the grandstands will extend the full length of Kiowa street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets. Last year many people could not get seats and had to sit on the curb or stand. Twenty powerful arc lamps will be hung over the street and there will be a floor committee of 40 or 50 business men to handle the crowd.

Indian dances again will be featured and real Indians will demonstrate the tribal dances for the public. The Midland band will furnish music for the event.

The affair Tuesday night will not be a social session, but will be devoted largely to accounts of the early days of the lodge and interesting bits of history.

The New Baby is World's Wonder

Every tiny infant makes life's perspective wider and brighter. And what ever there is to enhance its arrival and to ease and comfort the expectant mother should be given. The new baby is a world's wonder. It is a small, helpless creature, but it is the most wonderful of all God's creatures. It is a new life, a new hope, a new joy. It is a world's wonder.

In a little book are described more fully the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend to the woman for more than two generations. The book was written not only to aid the inexperienced but to enable so many women to have at hand the timely hints, suggestions and help in connection with the birth of a new life. It is a neatly printed, 64-page volume, and should be in the home of every mother. It should be in the home of every mother. It should be in the home of every mother.

Crowds Attend Chamber of Commerce Feast

Early yesterday morning—long before the average individual had arisen, much less had breakfasted—Mark Rafferty, manager of the Chamber of Commerce barbecue, rolled off a pile of brush the nearest thing to a bed he could find in North Cheyenne canon.

Now Waiter Asks, 'What Kind of Potatoes?'

Suggestion 'French Fried' Causes Near Riot

A well-known citizen went to his favorite restaurant yesterday and the waiter suggested that he take some French-fried potatoes. Result—near riot. The Germans, naturally, are loyal.

All of which is introductory to the suggestion that Colorado Springs people are taking an intense interest in the European war. Those who inhabit the newspaper offices, especially, come in contact with the excitement, having conversations with countless people every night on developments in the continental conflict.

"Don't you think that the Kaiser has bitten off more than he can chew?" asked one after they had called up the newspaper offices for the latest war bulletins. It is easier to agree than otherwise.

"How many were killed today," asks a female voice.

"It's terrible," many say.

"How long do you think it will last?" asks another.

One rather curious individual, with a well-developed nervous system, asks: "Can you tell me the strength of the standing and reserve armies of the war involved and the number of battleships? Just give it in round numbers."

Although politics have been shunned by the background by the title across the sea, some of the Oklahoma and Kansas visitors have been anxious about the primaries and cannot wait until morning to read it in the paper.

While attending meeting of the Busy Corner Debating Society, and listening to the newsmen about their crisis of "X" day, one learns how much interest is being taken. Some who have not bought a first edition extra from Denver makes a way for extra copies.

Read all they had in the Gazette this morning. Later, when the first editions are out, with the lurid headlines and editorial splashing of red ink, the buyers discover they read all the news in the afternoon paper.

It is a great and noble duty keeping the public informed about war conditions, the battles and the primaries.

The body was placed in a receiving vault at Evergreen cemetery and probably will be taken to New York for interment.

EFFECTS OF WAR ARE BEING FELT IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Railroads Receive Notices of Embargo on Shipping Mail Question Battering Postoffice

That the effects of a war in Europe will be felt in Colorado Springs is evident from the fact that embargo notices on export shipments have been received by the Rock Island Railroad and the Santa Fe Railroad. The embargo notices are being received by the Rock Island Railroad and the Santa Fe Railroad.

Large quantities of foreign mail are being received by the postoffice here, and several people from England and Australia are trying to get their mail to Colorado Springs.

It is a question whether foreign mail is reaching its destination. Nearly all the mail steamers are foreign vessels. Several of them have been back to port. It is a matter of debate as to whether the mails for different ports could be forwarded if the ships were captured.

As a result of the war the postoffice department in Washington has issued the following order which has been received by the postoffice here:

"The treaties concluded by the United States with foreign countries give each postal administration power to suspend temporarily the exchange of money orders in case of the outbreak of hostilities or any other emergency which may be deemed to be of such a nature as to require the suspension of the postal service."

The suspension of the postal service is a serious matter. It means that the people of Colorado Springs will be unable to receive their mail from foreign countries.

It is a question whether the postal service will be suspended. It is a question whether the postal service will be suspended.

KNOWLTON AND KERNOCAN STAGE THRILLER; FORMER WINNING WAY TO SEMIFINALS; FEATURES TODAY

Veterans of Courts Keep Gallery Excited; Finalists Will Be Decided Today; Mixed Doubles Still in Doubt

After a struggle that kept the attention of the gallery throughout, Dan Knowlton, winner of last year's tournament, and likely winner of the present competition, defeated Edward L. Kernocan in a three-set match at the Colorado Springs Golf club yesterday afternoon and went to the semifinals. He will play the winner of the Evans-Sheffer match and the winner of this will go to the final round. In the lower half of the draw A. H. Ewing of the Country club and Morgan Spiegle of the Wolf club will fight it out Saturday for the other final place.

The Knowlton-Kernocan match was extremely spectacular. It was most unusual in that Knowlton, after winning the first set, 6-0, immediately lost the second, 0-6. Knowlton let up a bit after winning six straight games and Kernocan was upon him in a moment. The veteran's service was working more effectively and the latter time he planted the ball in the outside corner of the service court. Knowlton was unable to place his returns. When the third set began, it was a case of a rougher struggle. The count went to 4-3 and then Knowlton, by accurate placing broke through his opponent's service. He then ran out the set, 6-3, a timely smash scoring the deciding point.

Dividing interest with the singles match was the mixed doubles contest between Miss Fierlsheim and H. H. Fawcett and Mr. and Mrs. Swenson. The former team won after a three-set bout. Neither of the quartet played up to standard, but the work of the latter generally was good. Mrs. Swenson's accurate lobbing and her backhand returns easily featured the match. Miss Fierlsheim did very good work during the greater part of the match. A feature of today's program will be the Evans and Sheffer vs. Ewing and Pastorius match at 4 o'clock (the winner goes to the semifinals) and the mixed doubles contests at 5 o'clock.

AL MARKSHEFFEL IS NAMED THE 'WIZARD' BY TEXANS

Gasoline Merchant at Palmer Lake Said to Be 'Holding Up' Motorists on Way to Springs

By C. LIN BONNER (In the Denver News.)

Previously known as an automobile racer and expert mechanic, A. W. Marksheffel of Colorado Springs, in charge of the trouble car with the Colorado-to-the-Gulf touring party last May, has earned the title of "The Wizard" in Texas. In the Lone Star state he is hailed as the cleverest automobilist that ever drove a car through the confines of the Panhandle and on to Galveston.

To Marksheffel the Colorado party attributes their ability to travel from Colorado Springs to the Texas port in nine days of actual touring over roads that Texans themselves declared could not be negotiated by anything but an outfit of two wheels and four wheels.

"The Colorado Springs expert drove his roadster 'Betty' and all during the trip remained behind to render assistance to anyone who met with trouble."

It remained for Marshall Spooner, president of the Port Worth Auto club, to christen Marksheffel "The Wizard" of the Colorado party.

A considerable number of motorists who are spending their vacations at Palmer Lake are complaining against excessive charge for gasoline at the pretty little resort. It seems that one man engaged in the garage business there is charging 24 cents per gallon for gasoline, and automobile owners are making loud and vehement protest against what they term a holdup.

This is an instance of how one man can do serious injury to a community. Palmer Lake, within a short distance of Denver, has been a popular spot with motorists of Denver for week-end parties and summer outings. This means good revenue for the town.

Also, Palmer Lake, located at the junction of the Perry Park and Castle Rock routes to Colorado Springs, gets every one of the dozens of automobiles passing between Denver and the Springs each day and nearly all bring some trade to the town.

It is a splendid location for a garage and oil depot. But, just because the town is a halfway point is no reason why motorists should be made to pay desert prices for their gasoline.

Investigation here shows that gasoline, at prevailing prices, can be laid down in Palmer Lake at a maximum cost of 14 cents. The handler of the product is entitled to a fair profit for his goods, but 8 cents seems like he is trying to get rich quick.

One oil concern in Denver, when informed yesterday that the motorists at Palmer Lake were being forced to pay an exorbitant price for gasoline, declared that it would take steps immediately to put in a gasoline depot there and sell the gasoline at only a slight advance over the Denver price.

J. R. Scholtz, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, is making a motorcycle trip from Philadelphia to his home in Rutte, Mont.

Ramona Has a Fight Ring Bout Next Tuesday Night

An arena for staging boxing events has been completed in Ramona and plans are under way for the incorporation of a boxing club and the securing of a state license. The area will seat 800 people and is covered by a roofed tent. M. A. Schubert and Frank Burnett of New York, city are behind the proposition and have made arrangements for a bout between two heavyweight scrappers next Tuesday. The fighters for the first bill are "Sailor" Carroll, a coast favorite, and Fireman Harris of Leadville. These boys tip the beam at 180 each. Other bouts are being planned in the near future.

START ON LONG TOUR

Just for the fun of it, that's why two Cincinnati boys, George Reppert and William Hader, are making a motorcycle trip to California. Mounted on sturdy two-wheelers, supplied with tent and complete camping outfit, these lads have headed for the western coast, which they expect to reach in about six weeks.

Another pair of long distance tourists who are traveling merely for the sport of the trip are Vance Johnson and Hans Dykstra of Chicago. These tourists are also carrying camping outfit and hunting and fishing paraphernalia. They expect to spend sometime in Wisconsin and Minnesota and will then chug into Canada where they will tour inland.

BROOKES AND WILDING WIN FROM BRITISH TENNIS TEAM

Parke and Lowe Go Down in Defeat Before Fast Australians in Semi-Final Round Davis Cup

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Two well won victories in singles today gave Australia a long lead in the tennis contest with the British Isles for the honor of meeting America in the challenge round for the Davis cup next week.

Norman E. Brookes defeated J. C. Parke three sets to two, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 1-6, 7-5, while A. F. Wilding of the same Antipodes team put out Arthur H. Lowe in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 10-14. Both Australasians were forced to the top of their individual game and Brookes was much exhausted when Parke last stroke went out of court.

CHIEF MEYERS BOOSTS BATTING AVERAGE

Addressed the crowd, "I am going to tell you how Christianity with the 'pep' wins out. First of all, if you will hear with me for a short time, I will give you a short account of my early life and how, when I was a boy in school, what a despicable 'loser' I was."

"Why, do you know, boys, my fellow schoolmates had no more respect for me than I have now for a cobra. I was just naturally mean. I would not associate with good boys, and was always seeking to detect some flaw in the work of others. Why, I loved my 'pep' associates. Because I had not yet learned to love my Lord and Savior."

Mr. Biddle told the audience, which was standing spellbound at his narration, that when he became older he drank and gambled sometimes, and in general was as 'indus' as a lead as ever lived. At the age of 18 he ran away from home and became a 'good sport.' He narrated how he boxed some of the best amateur and professional pugilists in the country, traveling always under an alias, because he was fearful that his relatives would hear of his exploits. In later years, Mr. Biddle said, in the world of business, he trampled upon the weak and helpless. "It was six years ago, however, that he received, as he terms it, 'the power of the Holy Ghost,' and believe me, I'm not a bit sorry that I did."

RELIGION WITH THE "PEP"

That's the Kind Tony Biddle Brings to the Wharf Rate

From the Philadelphia Ledger:

"Longshoremen, 'wharf rats,' sailors, gamblers and coal passers formed a picturesque background to an otherwise commonplace scene a few nights ago when Anthony J. Biddle, millionaire, amateur prize fighter and member of one of the nation's oldest families, addressed a large crowd at the twilight dock services at Washington avenue wharf, which are conducted by members of the Seamen's church institute."

The sun was sinking over the roof of a toolhouse on the end of one of the piers, its rays casting an orange glow over a scene, when from a platform used by the stevedores to pile ranks of sugar upon came the soft, plaintive notes of a cornet.

Biddle Tells His Story.

After a prayer Mr. Biddle was introduced to the gathering as a "man who can box the best boxer in the crowd." This pleased the majority of longshoremen and "roughs." When Mr. Biddle dropped to his knees on the dirty, cinder floor of the platform and prayed for guidance and strength to teach the assembled persons some lessons of importance, there was not a murmur in the audience.

"Friends and fellow scrappers," he addressed the crowd, "I am going to tell you how Christianity with the 'pep' wins out. First of all, if you will hear with me for a short time, I will give you a short account of my early life and how, when I was a boy in school, what a despicable 'loser' I was."

Great Britain to Control the Food Supply, Is Scheme

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A British government scheme to control the food supplies of the British Isles is probably to be issued in the near future. The scheme is a result of the experience of the war in the food supply of London the morning of the morning.

The price of beefsteak, which yesterday was 35 cents a pound, today rose to 40 cents. The price of wheat advanced today from 31 to 31.25 per quarter (eight bushels), while maize rose from 22 to 22.50 per quarter.

There was no considerable change in the price of other foodstuffs. The situation regarding meat was not less satisfactory.

Normal killings of home stock, supply 60 per cent of our annual consumption, reads the statement, and we are not necessarily dependent on imports for the balance of our supplies.

In case of emergency it could be provided by slaughtering a larger proportion of our own stock.

This contingency, however, arises in the present circumstances. There is now an exceptionally large supply of foreign meat in cold storage and heavy consignments are on the way to our shores. Therefore no justification exists for any rise in the price of meat.

The circular concludes with the assurance that the arrangements have been made with a view to controlling prices as far as possible.

FRANCE SAYS GERMANS HAVE CROSSED FRONTIER

PARIS, Aug. 6.—The French ministry of war today issued a communication stating that German cavalry and infantry were crossing the French frontier in reconnoitering parties.

A squadron of German dragoons bore down on Villers-la-Montagne in the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, but was repulsed by French riflemen.

A regiment of German cavalry advanced as far as Montfaucon, in the same department, but fell back before a body of French infantry.

The French mobilization is proceeding with the greatest order. Most of the regular army have joined.

An excellent spirit prevails in Alsace.

Santo Dumont, the famous aviator, offered his services today to the French government, the aviator, French general, Paul Pau, who fought in the war of 1870, has been placed in command of one of the French armies.

Japan Dissatisfied Because U.S. Unable to Mediate in War

TOKIO, Aug. 6.—The Japanese premier, Count Okuma, in an interview today, expressed his regret that the United States had not been able to mediate in the European conflict.

"If Germany succeeds in downing both France and Russia, it gains a respite by land which may enable it to build up its sea force equal or superior to that of Great Britain."

Result of interest to America.

In that case the world will be confronted by the naval power of a state not, like Great Britain, armed with territory, but one eager and ambitious for expansion, eager also for influence.

"In my judgment, a right appreciation of the situation should determine Great Britain to declare war at once, otherwise its entire engagement, whatever the letter, will be in spirit violated, and it will earn the entire distrust of all probable future allies."

Italy likewise owes it to itself to declare war against its recent allies.

"Undoubtedly the North sea will be the theater of the naval battles. The German fleet, so far as we know, steamed immediately from Kiel to the North sea, ready to strike. We may expect any minute, apparently, to get word of a great engagement, and should expect the British to win."

The suggestion made that Germany might demonstrate with its fleet in the Baltic is not tenable. Germany could achieve nothing with its fleet in the Baltic, for it is a principle of warfare that, under modern conditions, no nation can afford to waste its navy in operations against fortifications.

As for the question of the science of naval warfare to be answered in his final test of all theories of war. Rear Admiral Mahan said that the most important undoubtedly would be those of the increased efficiency of submarines and torpedoes and of aircraft.

"I believe," he said, "the English fleet which sailed with sealed orders is present in the North sea, with the purpose of being just out of effective range of submarines."

The mooted question of the big guns will also be tested. For my own part, I have always believed that the volume of fire was the determining factor. The number of hits and not single shots is the most important element.

What Is Contraband of War

From the New York Times.

The question what constitutes contraband of war is causing the greatest concern to shippers, and the perplexed state of the international law on the question is making it difficult for steamship men to know when they are carrying a cargo that is "reasonably safe from confiscation in the event of further declarations of war in Europe."

While the definition of contraband is elastic, there is now an international list of articles which can never at any time be contraband. The most important of these articles to America is cotton, which made the list of non-contraband goods of almost equal importance is the fact that gold is on the conditional contraband list. Gold becomes contraband if it is shipped to a nation involved in war, and is liable to seizure by ships of the enemy of that country.

London was placed on the non-contraband list at the London Naval Conference, although it had been treated as contraband by Russia during the Russo-Japanese war. While the London declaration has not been ratified by all nations, it is practically certain, according to Dr. Henry C. Rowe, assistant professor of international law at Columbia university, that its stipulations would not be interfered with by any European nation in case of a general war.

Articles contraband under the London declaration are: arms, munitions, military vehicles, etc. Other articles, except those in the non-contraband list, may be treated as contraband by a belligerent after giving notice to neutral nations of the articles which it has classed as liable to seizure.

Conditional Contraband.
Conditional contraband is liable to seizure at no time except when it is destined to the territory of an enemy, and then it can be seized with as little ceremony as if it were actual war material. Article 35 of the London declaration is as follows:

"Conditional contraband is not liable to capture when found on board a vessel bound for territory belonging to or occupied by an enemy or for the armed forces of the enemy, and when it is not to be discharged at an intervening neutral port. The ship's papers are conclusive proof both as to the voyage in which the vessel is engaged, and as to the port of discharge of the goods, unless she is found clearly out of the course indicated by her papers, and unable to give adequate reasons to justify such deviation."

The following articles, susceptible of use in war as well as for purposes of peace, may without notice be treated as contraband of war, under the name of conditional contraband:

1. Foodstuffs.
2. Forage and grain suitable for feeding animals.
3. Clothing, fabrics for clothing, and boots and shoes suitable for use in war.
4. Gold and silver in coin or bullion; paper money.
5. Vehicles of all kinds available for use in war and their component parts.
6. Vessels, craft and boats of all kinds, floating docks, parts of docks, and their component parts.
7. Railway materials, both fixed and rolling stock and material for telegraphs, telephones, telegrams and telephones.
8. Balloons and flying machines and their component parts together with accessories and articles recognizable as intended for use in connection with balloons and flying machines.
9. Fuel, lubricants.
10. Powder and explosives not specifically prepared for use in war.

Foremost Naval Authority Says Britain Must Fight

Special to the Chicago Tribune.

QUOGUE, N. Y.—Rear Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, U. S. N., retired, the foremost authority on naval affairs, says that Great Britain must at once throw its preponderant fleet against Germany for the chief purpose of maintaining its own position as a world power. For England, he says, it is a question, if it remains out of the war, of sacrificing its interest in the next generation to the interest of the generation.

Admiral Mahan similarly holds the view that Italy must join the war within a week's time, not as a partner of the Triple Alliance, but as an ally of France and Russia. Italy must take this step, he says, and hold the Austrians in check for the situation of the Balkans, which are already threatened by Turkey and sure to be the prey of the Turks unless the Austrian navy can be kept from the shores of Greece.

Mahan Charges Deception.

Admiral Mahan regards the present war as one of calculated aggressiveness by Germany and an inexorable act. He ventures the opinion that the absence of the German emperor from Berlin at the time of the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia was an act cleverly designed to deceive. The admiral also gives several important opinions upon the probable strategy of the naval powers of the nations. He says:

"The aggressive incidence of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia, taken with the concession by the latter of all the demands except those too humiliating against neutrals all the rivers properly German except those emptying into the Baltic. The British fleet is not strong enough to divide for blockade in both Baltic and North seas.

The Rhine, emptying through neutral Holland, cannot be blockaded.

"If the first German rush proves indecisive or prolonged, the financial pressure thus in the power of Great Britain may determine the issue, or may force the German fleet to flight, in which case the issue will be determined by battle."

"If Germany succeeds in downing both France and Russia, it gains a respite by land which may enable it to build up its sea force equal or superior to that of Great Britain."

In that case the world will be confronted by the naval power of a state not, like Great Britain, armed with territory, but one eager and ambitious for expansion, eager also for influence.
